

If You Need Some Help

The offices that support this survey would like to thank you for taking part. All surveys are anonymous. Surveys will only be used to learn about health behaviors of young people. This information will help us better meet students' needs.

If you have questions about the survey, you can reach out to contact@csswashington.org. If the survey bothered or upset you and you want to talk to someone about it, here are some numbers to contact. We suggest you do one of these things right away if you feel uncomfortable and would like help:

- Talk to an adult you trust in your family or community, such a parent, coach, mentor, neighbor, and/or faith leader.
- Talk to an adult you trust at school, such as a teacher, counselor, nurse, intervention specialist, or principal.
- Contact one or more of the places listed below for emotional support and to find out where to get help.
